

HUERTA IS REPORTED WEAKENING AND READY TO LEAVE COUNTRY--- FOREIGN ENVOYS SHOCK DICTATOR

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

CITY OF MEXICO, November 8.—(Special to The Advertiser)—Reports are being circulated that Huerta has engaged passage on a steamer sailing for Europe in a few days. These lacked any official confirmation and the dictator's close friends declare he will not resign.

A majority of the envoys of foreign powers have informed Huerta that they will not support him in his continued policy of defiance to the United States.

At the time this became known today there was much activity in official circles and it was reported that Huerta is preparing to abdicate as gracefully as possible under the circumstances.

This report was vehemently denied by an attaché of the national palace, who pointed to Huerta's war preparations as being indicative of his future program of action.

WILL EXHAUST EVERY AGENCY FOR PEACE

(By Federal Wireless Telegraph.)

WASHINGTON, November 8.

(Special to The Advertiser)—

The United States will not intervene in Mexico until every diplomatic agency at the command of the state department is exhausted. President Wilson and the cabinet are fully in accord upon this position.

The President and Secretary Bryan feel that the power and prestige of the United States are such that nothing will be lost through the further exercise of forbearance toward the revolution.

Some definite word of progress is expected from Lind at the state department within the next few days. Lind today reported to the state department the results of his conference yesterday with O'Shaughnessy and Sir Lionel Garden, the British minister to Mexico, but pursuant to its usual policy of secrecy the department refused to give out any portion of Lind's dispatches.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 8.—(Special to The Advertiser)—That Hawaii is to have more visitors from the Pacific coast during the coming winter than ever before in its history was the assertion by H. P. Wood, secretary of the promotion committee of Hawaii. Coroner's Jury Had No Hesitation in Naming Deserter Ferguson as Criminally Responsible for Death of Police Officer Abreu, Whom He Shot When Latter Was Assisting in His Capture.

From Sunday Advertiser.

Murder in the first degree was the charge placed against Private H. F. Ferguson, Troop F, Fourth Cavalry, yesterday morning following the coroner's inquest into the death of Police Officer Abreu. In the afternoon he was removed to the county jail, there to await the trial on which his life depends.

The inquest brought out no new facts regarding the shooting of Manuel D. Abreu by Ferguson last Thursday at Kilauea, near Kona Head. The principal witnesses were Captain Nelson, Police Chief Lillis and Detective Swaden. Three or four other witnesses of the shooting, who were girls and women standing near the scene were not called as the other evidence was sufficient. The other witnesses may be called at the trial.

The jury had no hesitation in returning the verdict and the accused murderer was at once brought before Judge Larnach and charged.

A Mere Lad.

Ferguson is described in the army circular announcing his desertion as being twenty years of age but informed Captain Nelson that he was eighteen or nineteen. The charges of burglary to which he has confessed, four or five in number, will probably never be entered against him as the charge which he faces at present, it is believed, will either bring him to the gallows or result in life imprisonment.

Testimony before the jury yesterday morning was largely occupied with the fact that the officers had not searched Ferguson for a gun at the moment he was arrested. His youth, his willingness to accompany the officers and the fact that he at once set out with them totally disarmed them and it was not until a second after the walk back to the automobile had commenced that he flashed the gun, possibly a minute after he was placed under arrest.

The funeral of his victim, will take place this afternoon at four o'clock from the Abreu residence, King street, opposite the Kalbi store. Orders were issued by Sheriff Jarrett yesterday morning to the entire department to turn out to attend the funeral, which will be under the auspices of the Hawaiian Society. The cortege will proceed to the Kalbi cemetery, where the services at the grave will be held.

FILIPINO GAMBLING GAMES LEAD TO TWO MURDERS ON HAWAII Dagger Slashed; Drove Shears in Victim's Back

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, November 7.—While attempting to kill another man Brailio Ronquillo, a Filipino, last Tuesday killed by accident Gaudentio Bantista, another Filipino, an innocent bystander who had nothing whatever to do with the quarrel.

The affair occurred at the Pihonua plantation camp last Tuesday afternoon at about half past four o'clock.

The trouble started when one Gregorio attempted to collect a gambling debt of two dollars from Brailio. Brailio said that he would not pay, and another Filipino, named Ramon, butted in with a taunt directed towards Brailio, saying that it was a shame that he would not pay his debts.

Brailio became enraged and drew a long dagger, a peculiar folding affair typical of Asia, and attacked Ramon. Ramon caught his assailant by the throat, and for several moments the two grappled, each trying to get the other down. The fray took place in a narrow, enclosed hallway, and a number of Filipinos stood about, quite close to the contestants.

Brailio managed to get his arm holding the dagger free, and he threw it far back so as to get force to a blow which he intended to aim at Ramon, but in making the sweeping motion, he struck one of the men in the crowd, Gaudentio, cutting an awful gash in his arm.

This ended the fight, for Gaudentio fell to the ground, while Brailio took to his heels. The rest of the Filipinos went in pursuit of the knife-wielder, leaving Gaudentio on the floor, where he lost copious quantities of blood. As a matter of fact, no attempt was made to dress as wound until Manager Henderson arrived about five or six minutes later. He dressed the wound temporarily, but it was too late, and the victim died at about half past eleven the same evening.

Brailio was caught by two Hawaiians, who had a hard time to keep the other Filipinos from killing him. He is now in custody.

HILO, November 7.—The Hamakua

Mill Company's mill building at Pihonua was last Tuesday split in two by a falling smokestack. By what seems to be almost a miracle no machinery was damaged, the stack falling between the dynamo on one side and the lathe and ice-making machinery on the other in such a manner that it looked as if it had been placed there with much care. It came within four feet of demolishing the expensive cylinders.

The mill had two stacks, a small one and a bigger one, and in the course of preparing for the coming grinding season, the two stacks were torn down in order that they might be replaced by new ones.

HILO, November 7.—Deputy Sheriff

Richard of Hamakua last Wednesday brought to Hilo Pedro Sana, who last Saturday night stabbed to death with a pair of shears a fellow-countryman, named Hario Abalo. The murder took place in the Kavele camp of the Honokaa plantation, some miles on the Kula side of the Hamakua village.

According to Richard the two men had been gambling in the morning when Pedro won all Hario's money. During the course of the evening Hario saw Pedro, and became so incensed at the sight of the man who had got away with his hard-earned money that he was seized by a fit of passion. He caught up a cup and threw it at Pedro, hitting him in the face. He also called him a vile name, whereupon he darted into his room where he secured a pair of shears.

Armed with this weapon he emerged and tackled Pedro, whom he stabbed in the shoulder, inflicting a painful wound. The two men grappled, and Pedro managed to get the shears away from his assailant. When the men broke from their clench, Hario fled, but Pedro pursued him in a life-and-death race around the house, and finally he managed to get close enough to Hario to stab him in the back, near the shoulder blade the point penetrating the lung.

The wounded man crawled into his room, where he lay, unattended, until some time during the night death took him. Blood ended his sufferings. Although Hario's woman and several other Filipinos were present and knew what had happened, no word of the murder was given out by them until the following morning, when they notified a Japanese lunger.

The above version was secured by Richard from an eye-witness, Pedro who remained in the camp and who made no resistance when the police arrived, claims that he stabbed Hario while they were clinged in their grapple for the shears. Richard claims, however, that the nature of the wound is such that it disproves this claim.

The small stack was torn down with trouble, but the big one caused the pilking. The stack was an iron one, but was lined with brick. As the work of preparing to get it down was under way the foundation on which the stack stood, suddenly failed and the stack itself settled down until it struck the ground, when it broke into two pieces at a distance about sixteen feet above the ground.

The lower, and smaller, piece fell to the railroad track, and failed to do any damage. The larger piece, however, fell right across the mill building, which it literally split into two separate pieces. As has been stated, no machinery was damaged, and the entire loss can probably be covered by the expenditure of about twelve hundred dollars.

Charles Furneaux, Who Came

Here Thirty-five Years Ago,

Claimed by Death.

(By Kahuku Wireless.)

HILO, Hawaii, November 7.—(Special

(To The Advertiser)—Charles Furneaux died at his Olan home late this afternoon, following a long illness. He arrangements have been made for the burial will take place Sunday afternoon at the Homeless cemetery. He leaves a widow and one married daughter, the latter living in the East.

Charles Furneaux was over seventy years of age at the time of his death.

He had been a resident of Hilo and Olan for upwards of twenty-five years, the past three years as an invalid at his Olan home. He spent about thirty-five years in the Islands.

Furneaux was well known throughout Hawaii. For many years and until the annexation of Hawaii to the United States he was the American consular agent and United States shipping commissioner at the port of Hilo. When the news reached Hilo that the annexation treaty had passed congress and had been signed by the commissioners of the United States and the Republic of Hawaii, Furneaux was the happiest man in the metropolis of the Big Island.

Deceased was possessed of considerable property, both on the banks of the Waialua river, Waialeale, and at Olan.

He was an enthusiastic believer in coffee and banana growing, and spent considerable money in developing this class of agriculture.

As a punter Furneaux attained considerable distinction, especially with his oil and color views of Hawaiian vol-canses and other Hawaiian subjects.

One of his most prized works was a painting of the coronation of Kalakaua, which occurred in 1883, and which he witnessed. He was an intimate friend of the noted painter Jules Tavernier.

Charles Furneaux came from Boston to Hawaii some thirty-five years ago in order to charge for their services in this connection, unless it involves their going from Hilo to Honolulu for conference or vice versa, but this is not likely to cost very much, and the main expense of getting out the report will be that of the mechanical construction thereof.

Ready for Quick Work.

In the mean time, if the commission remains in session, it will be able to convene in case new graft cases are discovered. The fact that graft has been going on right under the nose of the commission, while it was at work,

GRAFT PROBE ULSTER READY NEEDS MORE MONEY TO BEGIN FIGHT

Appropriation for Hawaii Commission Is About Exhausted,

While There Is a Great Amount of Work Yet to Be Done Before Audit Is Complete and Majority of the Grafters Have Been Run to Earth.

(Mail Special to The Advertiser.)

HILO, Nov. 7.—It is now very plain that the entire work of the graft commission cannot be completed within the sum of twenty thousand dollars which was appropriated for its session by the legislature. Report had it last week that the commission intended to ask the board of supervisors to assist it in winding up its work by giving it an additional appropriation of ten thousand dollars. This is a gross exaggeration, however. It is likely that the commission will ask the county fathers to contribute some sum, but it will be no more than five thousand dollars and is likely to be some figure nearer three thousand dollars.

In the absence from Hilo of Commissioner Williamson, who has been the watchdog of the commission treasury ever since its work began, it is impossible to state with accuracy just where the commission stands financially. Chairman Elliot figures, however, on the basis of a statement which was made to him by Williamson before the latter went to hunt grafters in Kona, that the commission will have left at the end of November only about one thousand dollars.

The Pay Roll.

This sum is, of course, too small to defray the expense of keeping the work running on its present basis for a single month. The salary of Breckons is $550 a month, and his hotel expenses are $90 more. Gooding Field's salary is $500, and that of his assistant $150. If to this is added money paid for stenographic work and other expenses, it seems that it will be impossible to keep the work of the commission running for less than $1500 a month.

The commissioners are of the opinion, and in this they have the strongest support of the business community, that it would be absurd to abandon the work of the investigation, now that it is almost completed, merely on account of the lack of a few thousand dollars.

Three Month's Work.

While it is, of course, impossible to estimate just how much longer time is needed for the audit, as there is always a likelihood of new mines of graft being found, which will delay the audit beyond expectation, it is probable that it can be finished in about three months. It is
